

Patient Solidarity Day

One voice. United. Universal.

For newsletters sent out after the day

On 6 December 2014, (Your organisation's name) was proud to support Patient Solidarity Day! This is a worldwide initiative to highlight the need to have patient-centred healthcare across all global healthcare systems. Patients everywhere must be involved in the decision-making processes that affect their healthcare and be viewed as an equal partner in the health system.

Patients and patient organizations from all over the world and many different backgrounds held a range of events, activities, marches, press conferences and other calls to action to mark the day and promote patient-centred healthcare.

(Your organisation's name) supported the day by... (add details of activities that you held to support the Day).

Patient Solidarity Day – One Voice. United. Universal.

We are very proud to have joined the International Alliance of Patients Organizations (IAPO) in supporting such an important initiative and to have been a part of such a vital event. Patient Solidarity Day empowered our members and friends all over the world to unite together and demonstrate our commitment to patient-centred care .

For more information about the events that took place visit www.patientsolidarityday.org, follow @PatientSolDay on Twitter and like the Patient Solidarity Page on Facebook.